Angel A1P LED

The Angel A1P reef and marine LED light adds more power to the full-spectrum output and color rendering of the Angel A1. It's the complete package right out of the box, from professional-grade performance to intuitive controls and a waterproof power supply.

The Angel A1P LED light offers 150 watts of performance for premium coverage at depths of more than 18 inches. Get full, deep light coverage that's optimized for SPS corals, richer sunsets and warmer moods. Individually controllable red/green color channels enable you to create an ideal environment for a healthy reef and a beautiful tank. Achieve professional-grade results quickly and easily. Tweak settings when you want to – not because you have to.

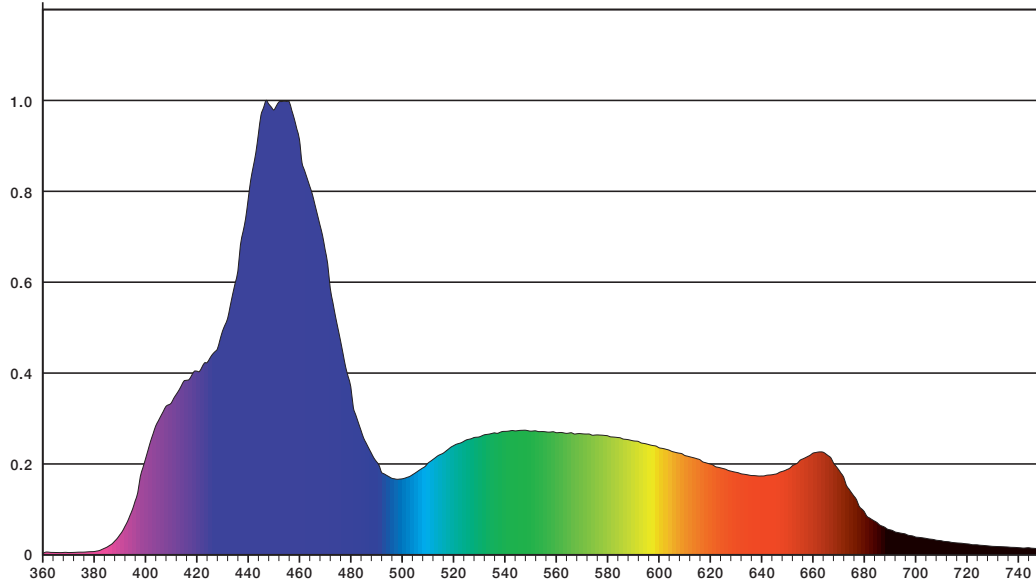

Most important, everything you need is in the box – no additional gadgets, connection devices or apps to purchase. Just plug it in and enjoy. With Euroquatics, it's all included, so you spend more time watching what's in your tank – not adjusting what's on it.
